Round led by international venture capitalists Benchmark Capital and Index Ventures

London, U.K, September 15, 2003 - Home entertainment company, Video Island, announces the closing of a 3 million (GBP2.1 million) Series A financing round co-led by Benchmark Capital and Index Ventures. Founding investors and strategic partners include Simon Franks of Redbus plc, the UK based media and entertainment group which owns one of the most successful independent film distributors in the UK and Robin Klein, Founder and Chairman of Retail Variations plc, one of the UK's largest independent multi-channel retailers. George Coelho, Partner at Benchmark and Danny Rimer, Partner at Index Ventures, will join the Video Island board. Founded in 2002, Video Island is a highly personalised home entertainment subscription service, offering membership to the UK's ultimate DVD library - with over 12,000 titles and growing, delivered directly to people's doors, with no due dates and no late fees or hidden costs. Following a free

14-day trial, subscribers to the Video Island service pay a flat monthly membership fee, starting from as little as GBP12.99 per month (the equivalent of GBP2.99 a week). This enables them to rent an unlimited number of titles from a library, which includes every DVD available for rental in the UK - from mainstream Hollywood to Art House, music and documentaries. DVDs are dispatched and returned by 1st class post (pre paid) and subscribers manage a list of films they wish to rent on the Video Island website. Video Island has a uniquely sophisticated technology and operations platform. In addition to having the most advanced multi-channel personalisation capabilities in the marketplace, Video Island's patent-pending automated pick-pack logistics infrastructure enables subscribers to receive with unparalleled efficiency and accuracy the titles they want in a scaleable and cost-effective manner. Given the spectacular growth of the DVD marketplace, automation in operations will become a key factor in offering a reliable service to an ever-increasing customer base. Video Island is capitalising on the explosive growth of the DVD market in Europe. DVD players are the fastest selling consumer electronics product in history, outstripping mobile phones and PCs. This Christmas alone, almost 2 million players are expected to be sold. The UK market currently accounts for 35% of the total European video market (1) and U.K. DVD rental market alone is expected to grow from GBP65 million in 2001 to GBP400m in 2005(2). While subscription-based DVD rental has been highly successful in the US, the European market remains largely untapped, despite the increasing level of DVD player penetration. Europe also has highly efficient and cost-effective postal services, which provides a key-enabling factor. "Given the growth in the DVD market, where DVD players can now be purchased for less than GBP40 on the high street, we are extremely excited about Video Island's prospects. We believe Video Island's offering will change the dynamics of home entertainment and we look forward to helping the team build the business," George Coelho, Partner at Benchmark Capital commented. Danny Rimer, Partner at Index Ventures, added, "The real challenge of offering a service like Video Island is everything that happens behind the scenes. Having looked at and reviewed a number of services the combination of the Video Island team, technology and know-how made it the right choice. We look forward to helping them build a world-class service." Saul Klein, Co-founder and CEO, was previously co-founder of multi-channel advisory and investment business The Accelerator Group and prior to that Group Program Manager for Web Platform Services at Microsoft, where he managed the roll-out of Passport Services. He was also the co-founder of The Electronic Telegraph, the world's first daily newspaper on the Internet and Fantasy Football. He commented, "We established the Video Island proposition around the firm foundations of some of the UK's most successful entertainment distribution and multi-channel retail entrepreneurs, as well as the most sophisticated technology platform in the marketplace. By now working with Index and Benchmark, we are delighted to have found two VCs who have pan European expertise, global reach and the experience of building some of the world's most successful e-commerce businesses such as eBay and Betfair." The proceeds of fundraising will be used for sales and marketing, business development and further investment in logistics and the DVD library. About Video Island Video Island is a company set to revolutionise the DVD rental market. Founded in 2002, it is a highly personalised home entertainment subscription service, launching its full online DVD rental business in the next month. Subscribers to the Video Island service pay a monthly membership fee, which enables them to rent as many DVDs as they like, subject to a maximum of three simultaneous DVD rentals. Video Island offers the "ultimate DVD library" - 12,000 DVDs, directly to your door. Unlike traditional home entertainment services, Video Island offers no late fees has no hidden costs and offers great value for money. LABATT 24 HOUR RELAY RAISES OVER $730,000 IN SUPPORT OF EASTER SEAL KIDS

Teams Run 14,783km in 24 hours

TORONTO, June 13 /CNW/ - Getting 'the run-around' was given a whole new meaning this weekend as thousands turned out to do laps in Centennial Park during the Labatt 24 Hour Relay in support of Easter Seal kids. Since the starting gun sounded yesterday (Saturday) at 10:00 a.m., 3,000 people have taken their turns around the track for a total of 14,783kms. Despite the weekend's heat, spirits were high when the event closed today at 10:00 a.m., the 85 participating teams raised an incredible $735,385 for Ontario children with disabilities and their families.

``We don't call it the Ultimate All-nighter for nothing,'' said Mary Osborne, Senior Manager, Corporate & Special Events for the Easter Seal Society. ``Our teams gave the ultimate effort, not in pursuit of record times or prizes or medals, but in order to raise funds for the children and families we serve. We're thrilled by the success of this year's event and owe a great debt of thanks to our sponsors, teams and volunteers.''

Because the Relay is focused on fundraising, competition is fierce between the teams. The top teams were MI Developments who raised $63,299, Labatt raised $29,976 and Western Inventory raised $25,709.

For a full 24 hours, team members took turns running, walking or jogging their way around a 2.5 km course, with each team averaging a total of approximately 200 km throughout the event. When they weren't taking their turns around the track there was plenty to do including: volleyball and slo-pitch tournaments, Sumo wrestling, bungee basketball, velcro drag racing, all-night movies and euchre plus music, dancing, a live band, Karaoke and food and beverages.

Corporate sponsors of the event include Labatt, Enbridge Consumers Gas, Nike, Ste. Anne's Natural Spring Water, Queue Systems, Intercon, Dairyworld Foods, Fort James, Catelli, Pepsi, Angus Reid and 3Com.

The Easter Seal Society provides direct services to children with physical disabilities and their families through financial assistance for essential equipment, community programs, children's camps, parent support programs, advocacy and funding for research.

About Jeffrey Citron:

Jeffrey Citron is a technology pioneer and visionary who transformed the financial services industry. As Chairman and CEO of Vonage, Mr. Citron aims to redefine yet another industry -- telecommunications.

Some of the more revolutionary financial services developments over the past decade were spearheaded by Mr. Citron. In 1995, Mr. Citron founded The Island ECN, a computerized trading system designed to eliminate the problems associated with order execution. The Island ECN recently was acquired by Instinet Group for 503 million dollars. Today the newly merged company is one of the largest global financial exchanges, and is responsible for more than one in four NASDAQ trades.

Following on the success of The Island ECN, Mr. Citron founded and became the Chairman and CEO of Datek Online Holdings Corp. as Datek transitioned into the online brokerage industry. Under his leadership, Datek had grown to become the fourth largest online brokerage in the US, and was recently acquired by Ameritrade Holdings for 1.3 billion dollars. The newly merged company with nearly 3 million customers is now the second largest online financial services firm behind the Charles Schwab Company. Mr. Citron departed Datek in 1999

and, recognizing a similar opportunity, founded Vonage.

Apart from his entrepreneurial activities, Mr. Citron is continually pursuing philanthropic initiatives. He currently serves on the board of the Montclair Art Museum and through his family foundation routinely funds medical research, supports the Arts and dedicates his time and resources to children's charities.

About the Deborah Heart and Lung Center:

Originally founded in 1922 as a tuberculosis sanatorium, today the internationally renowned Deborah Heart and Lung Center provides specialized medical and surgical treatment to adults and children with heart, lung and vascular disease. The Center continues to operate on the founding principle that "there should be no price tag on life," delivering care to patients regardless of their ability to pay. Offering the latest technology and a comprehensive range of cutting edge surgical techniques, Deborah also offers advanced non-surgical options, and a comprehensive outpatient program. The medical team performs over 10,000 procedures a year, supported by the fundraising efforts of the Deborah Hospital Foundation.

About the Deborah Hospital Foundation:

The Deborah Hospital Foundation, officially founded in 1974, is comprised of approximately 50,000 volunteers across some 200 community-based chapters.

The Foundation raises funds and awareness through a variety of events and activities. Each year, the group generates millions of dollars in aide of the hospital.
